Cloud Imperium Games, LLC
12322 Exposition Blvd,
Los Angeles, CA 90064

Dear Hiring Manager,

Ever since my father first shared Star Wars with me, I've been a space fanatic. Both fiction and reality have captivated me ever since, and that sense of wonder is what drives my 3d art. When I first heard about Star Citizen and saw what the team at Cloud Imperium was creating, I became a kid again, giddy with the realization that my wildest space fantasies could come true thanks to this game. I truly admire your team's dedication to the game you are creating, and their dedication to the players who will eventually populate the virtual universe being created.

From my very beginnings as a 3d modeler, I was creating virtual spaceships. During my first few years as a 3d modeler I churned out dozens of Star Wars models, from X-Wings to blasters to droids. Studying a successful series of designs such as the vehicles in Star Wars is an excellent way to gain an understanding of a fictional but functional sci-fi universe. In addition to my knowledge gained through my personal projects, I've also learned proper topology, optimization, texturing, and animation of hard surfaces, giving me an understanding of machines and how they work in the digital world.

Most recently my school career has taught me a lot about design concepts and how to work linearly towards an end goal. After recently earning my Bachelor's degree in Media Arts and Animation, I am ready to use my skills to do something impactful; something that will have gamers talking for decades to come. I know my education and experience will make me a valuable asset to the Cloud Imperium team as a 3d modeler, animator, or texture artist.

I currently reside in Citrus Heights, Ca, but I may be willing to relocate or commute as my career dictates. I am available immediately for work and with your permission, I would like to contact you to set up a date to meet in person. I have enclosed a resume with this email, and I can gladly provide a list of professional references upon request. Thank you very much for your time and consideration, and I hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,

Cameron Thomas
